1. INTRODUCTION

1.1. The bylaws of the College of Engineering and Computer Science establish procedures for the participation of the faculty in the governance of the College and describe methods by which the faculty make recommendations on faculty development, curriculum, and other issues affecting the College. The term “faculty,” when used in these Bylaws, refers to all NTE and TET BUFMS in the college.

2. COLLEGE COMMITTEES

2.1. The standing committees of the College are the Steering Committee, the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee, the Undergraduate Petitions Committee, the Graduate Studies Committee, the Faculty Development Committee, the Scholarship Awards Committee, the Teaching Awards Committee and the College Technology Committee. The Dean or the faculty of the College may request the Steering Committee to create ad hoc committees to undertake and discharge specific tasks. The charge, and composition of the standing committees are listed below.

2.2. General Responsibility

It is expected that standing committees may establish guidelines they view as helpful in the efficient execution of their duties. These guidelines are not binding on future committees. If a standing committee formulates guidelines that it believes should be incorporated into College policy, it may submit a proposal to the Steering Committee for inclusion on the agenda of the next faculty meeting. Recommendations, findings, reports, minutes of meetings, and correspondence of all standing or ad hoc committees shall be maintained by the current committee chair or person designated by the Committee, and submitted to the College office.

2.3. Terms of Service

Members of the Steering Committee and the Faculty Development Committee are elected by eligible faculty of their departments. Members of all other committees are appointed. The term of appointment or election to a standing committee is two years for faculty members and one year for student members. Appointments will take effect and the new committees will take office at the beginning of the Fall term.

2.3.1. Elections

Elections shall be supervised by the College Steering Committee. Elections shall be conducted so as to be completed by the end of the Spring term. Initially, all College faculty eligible for membership will be canvassed to solicit nominations, according to the requirements for each elected committee, until a slate of candidates who have explicitly agreed to serve is available. The election shall then be conducted by secret ballot. If a vacancy develops on an elected committee, an election will be held to elect a replacement for the remainder of the unexpired term.

2.3.2. Appointments
Faculty appointments to standing and ad hoc committees shall be the responsibility of the Steering Committee. Each year, the outgoing Steering Committee shall request nominations from each Department for committee vacancies that will occur and appoint the members to the committees for the following year.
