1. PREAMBLE AND DEFINITIONS

The bylaws of the College of Engineering and Computer Science at Wright State University establish procedures for the participation of the Faculty in the governance of the College and describe methods by which the Faculty make recommendations on Faculty development, curriculum, and other issues affecting the College.

Except as otherwise noted, when used in these Bylaws, the term “University” refers to Wright State University, the term “College” refers to the College of Engineering and Computer Science at the University, the term “Department” refers to one of the departments in the College and the term “Faculty,” refers to all NTE and TET BUFMS in the College.

2. COMMON COLLEGE COMMITTEE INFORMATION

The standing committees of the College are the Steering Committee, the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee, the Undergraduate Petitions Committee, the Graduate Studies Committee, the Faculty Development Committee, the Scholarship Awards Committee, the Teaching Awards Committee and the College Technology Committee. The Dean or the Faculty of the College may request the Steering Committee to create ad hoc committees to undertake and discharge specific tasks. An ad hoc committee that will be required by the College on a somewhat regular basis is the Senior Lecture Promotion Committee. The charge and composition of the standing committees and the ad hoc Senior Lecturer Promotion Committee are listed below. In this document, College committees refers to all committees in the College, while standing committees and ad hoc committees in the College are identified as such.

2.1. Responsibility

College committees may establish guidelines they view as helpful in the efficient execution of their duties. These guidelines are not binding on future committees. If a College committee formulates guidelines that it believes should be incorporated into college policy, it may submit a proposal to the Steering Committee for inclusion on the agenda of the next General Faculty meeting. Recommendations, findings, reports, minutes of meetings, and correspondence of all College committees shall be maintained by the current committee chair or person designated by the College committee, and submitted to the College office.

2.2. Terms of Service

Members of the Steering Committee and the Faculty Development Committee are elected by eligible Faculty of their departments. Members of all other College committees are appointed. The term of appointment or election to a standing committee is two years for Faculty members and one year for student members. Appointments will take effect and the new committees will take office at the beginning of the Fall term. The term of appointment to an ad hoc committee is for the duration of the committee or for two years for Faculty members and one year for student members, whichever comes first.

2.2.1. Elections

Elections to the Steering Committee and the Faculty Development Committee shall be supervised by the College Steering Committee. Elections shall be conducted so as to be completed by the end of the Spring term. Initially, all College Faculty eligible for membership will be canvassed to solicit nominations, according to the requirements for each elected committee, until a slate of candidates who have explicitly agreed to serve is available. The election shall then be conducted by secret ballot. If a vacancy develops on an elected committee, an election will be held to elect a replacement for the remainder of the unexpired term.

2.2.2. Appointments
Faculty appointments to College committees shall be the responsibility of the Steering Committee. Each year, the outgoing Steering Committee shall request nominations from the appropriate Faculty body in each Department for committee vacancies that will occur and appoint the members to the committees for the following year. The Steering Committee is also responsible for the appointment of a chair for each standing committee and for the appointment of student members to the standing committees on a yearly basis. When possible, appointments should be completed and provided to the Dean and College Faculty Senators prior to the tenth week of Spring Semester, so that the College can appropriately coordinate selection for the next year’s University Faculty Committees for approval in the last University Faculty Senate Meeting of the Academic year.

2.3. Conducting Business
The basic requirement for approval of action for a College committee is a majority (“more than half”) of the persons entitled to vote, regardless of whether or not they are present. For example, a committee with four voting members has a quorum requirement of three members present, and the approval of any motion requires three affirmative votes.

Committee members may designate an alternate/proxy for meetings that they cannot attend; however, any person so designated must be eligible to fill the applicable committee position. The alternate/proxy is eligible to vote in place of the person whose place he/she is filling.

Each College committee will publish its minutes and reports on an access-appropriate area of the college website.

A member of any standing committee, except for the Faculty Development Committee may report any minority opinion on any committee action to the Steering Committee for consideration as a potential item of business for reconsideration in a General College Faculty Meeting. Such a request must be made within five working days of the committee vote.

The Steering Committee will set, for each standing committee, a minimum frequency of meetings and will, with cooperation of the standing committees, publish all meeting dates on the college website.

When business initiated by a department is to be considered, the originating department shall make all pertinent documentation available to the College committee at least five working days in advance of the meeting unless an exception is granted by the chair of the College committee.
